

SAIP Webinar Series

The South African Institute of Physics (SAIP) is pleased to announce the introduction of the SAIP Webinar Series! Our mission is to be the “Voice of Physics” in South Africa and to facilitate this role in Africa.

The Webinar Series aims to amplify your world of physics through topical conversations that showcase how physics and society are entangled.

Join us, EVERY Friday, commencing 18 September 2020, between 13h00-14h00, for conversations on issues and ongoing research that affect our daily lives and the scientific enterprise.

The conversations will be facilitated by some of our by leading physicists and science communicators.
